

Bachelor of Community Rehabilitation

CRDS scholars ask questions such as: how can disabled people and their families participate fully in their communities? How can stigmatization and stereotyping of disabled people be prevented? What are the barriers to a good life for disabled people, and how can they be removed? How can society make the lives of disabled people better? Community Rehabilitation and Disability Studies examines the economic, social and political forces that marginalize people in order to empower disabled people and their communities.

Online Degree

The BCR includes courses such as:

- Management and Leadership in Non-Profits (415)
- Social Construction of Disability and Health (425)
- Career Development and Disability (473)
- Special Topics in Disability Research and Policy (541)
- Bioethics and Disability (545)
- Health Research, Emerging Technologies and Marginalized Groups (547)
- Disability and the Law (573)
- Professional Issues and Ethics in Community Rehabilitation (581)
- Community Development in Community Rehabilitation (583)
- Practicums (590's)
- Health Foundations Across the Lifespan (553)

The BCR can lead to careers working with all age groups from children to seniors in:

- Community development and supports
- Mental health
- Rehabilitation consulting
- Early intervention and childcare
- Seniors community resources
- Policy research
- Education
- Rehabilitation therapies
- Advocacy
- Vocational rehabilitation services

This is a two year program after an approved or related diploma or two years university (20 courses) with prerequisites.

Application deadline:
March 1st: September admission

For more information:
Sarah Hawley
403.220.2985
sjhogan@ucalgary.ca

All application details, forms, prerequisites, and deadlines are on our website: cumming.ucalgary.ca/crds